

WILL DISSOLVE THE BEEF TRUST

Federal Grand Jury Summoned to Meet at Kansas City.

PRICES TOO HIGH

Dealers Making 100 Per Cent on the Money They Turn Over.

PRESIDENT BACK OF IT

New York, April 14.—Attorney General Davies has decided to investigate the so-called beef trust. He will make a thorough preliminary survey of the situation with the intention of preparing the strongest possible case.

Kansas City, Mo., April 14.—It is known here that the attorney general of the United States has telegraphed instructions to Major Warner, the federal district attorney, to prepare at once to dissolve the beef trust and to indict the members thereof. A federal grand jury has been summoned to meet next week.

Major Warner positively declined to make any statement in the premises. When pressed he abruptly terminated the interview.

A legal representative of a packer here said that he has been notified that such action was contemplated from Washington.

All to Be Indicted
"We were told," he said, "that every one of the Kansas City, Chicago and Omaha packers would be taken before the grand jury and afterward indicted."

"The trouble is over the rise in the price of meats. Reduced to the point of view of a retailer meats are costing double what they did a year ago. It has hurt the dinner pail and the president is interfering."

"I have not a word to say."

"But this dispatch says you have your instructions," was insisted. "If I have it will be highly improper in me to make a statement," was his reply.

Confirms the News
Today the senior member of a law firm with which Major Warner does much business confirmed the private dispatch and added:

"The United States commissioner has been cautioned to select his grand jury this time with the utmost care. The intimation to Warner is that President Roosevelt is making this his personal fight. Packers are said to be making 100 per cent on the money they turn over."

"The orders are to stop at nothing short of the federal prison itself in the effort to kill the beef trust."

PRACTICED WATER CURE TORTURE

President of a Philippine Province Made to Confess by Filling His Stomach with Water.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Sergeant Charles Riley, formerly of the Twenty-Sixth Volunteer Infantry gave a sensational testimony before the senate Philippines committee this morning. He told the story of the infliction of the water cure tortures to make the Filipinos give information against brother insurgents. He said the president of Ibarra, suspected of giving warning to the insurgents of the approach of the enemy, was bound and placed beneath a water tank and his mouth held open. The water was allowed to run into his mouth until he was filled and then forced out by pressing the foot on his stomach. This was done several times and the president finally confessed.

LION WAS WHIPPED BY THE BULL; AMERICANS CHEER THE FIGHTING

Four-Year-Old Pet Is Pitted Against a Savage Mexican Bull, and Forced to Continue the Struggle After Being Crippled and Gored.

El Paso, Tex., April 14.—From a standpoint of brutality yesterday's night at the Juarez bull ring between a four-year-old south African lion and a savage Mexican bull was a success. The bull proved master, and in only one instance did he get the worst of the bloody battle, which lasted forty minutes.

The lion was badly whipped and probably will die from the injuries he received. He was gored time and again by his fierce antagonist and tossed about on the enraged bull's horns like a stuffed animal. At the end of the fight his right fore leg was broken, several of his ribs had been caved in, and he was bleeding profusely from the mouth and from the thrusts he had received from the bull's horns.

The exhibition was witnessed by an American crowd. The price of admission was from $2 to $5, and was too high for many of the Mexicans. The Americans entered into the spirit of the fight with a relish not outwitted by the Mexicans in their bloody sport, the bull fights, and time and time again, as the enraged animals came together, the spectators cheered lustily.

The lion would have been killed outright had it not been for the fact that the tips of the bull's horns were sawed off and they could not penetrate the lion's tough hide.

FINE STRATEGY OF "JOE" JEFFERSON

Popular Actor Outwits Crowd of Women at Stage Door by Rapid Climb Over Footlights.

Richmond, Va., April 14.—Joseph Jefferson yesterday rather than meet a crowd of women who blocked the stage entrance to the Academy of Music, hurried to the main entrance, passed down the aisle, and made his way to the stage by clambering over the footlights. He scornfully smiled when told he could not get to the stage through the auditorium.

"I can climb over the footlights, can't I?" he said. "Not for anything in the world would I have tried to pass through that crowd of women."

The thought of having to shake hands with the crowd assembled seemed to embarrass the actor and he was proud of the ruse by which he eluded them.

HORRIBLE MURDER IN DES MOINES, IA.

Girl and a Boy Found Dead in a Lonely Road—Negro Seen Running Away Is Suspected.

Des Moines, April 14.—One of the most atrocious murders in the history of Des Moines was disclosed last night when the bodies of a fifteen year old girl, and thirteen year old boy were found in a lonely road near Highland Park college. The bodies were identified as those of the children of Peter Peterson, a dairyman. Their heads were both crushed with a blunt instrument. A negro was seen running from the scene of the crime. The motive of the murder is believed to have been a desire to outrage the girl and the boy was killed for the purpose of preventing an exposure.

BELGIUM ON VERGE OF A REVOLUTION

Situations Growing Out of the Socialistic Riots Is Darker Today—No Sympathy for the King.

Brussels, April 14.—The situation in Belgium growing out of the socialistic demands for universal suffrage are darker than ever this morning. Daylight found the streets of the city quiet, but popular interest is only clambering. In many quarters the belief prevails that the country is on the verge of a revolution. The situation is aggravated today by a strike in many parts of the kingdom. No sympathy is heard anywhere for King Leopold, whose gay life has alienated the people from him.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR MILLER

Murderer of Miss Jennett in Prison 72 Hours After Death.

Detroit, Mich., April 14.—At midnight Saturday, seventy-two hours after Prof. Joseph M. Miller murdered Miss Carrie M. Jennett with a hatchet, he was in Jackson prison, sentenced to spend the rest of his life there at hard labor.

He was arraigned in the Recorder's court on the charge of murder. His attorney, who was appointed by the court, raised the question of Miller's sanity and Judge Murphy appointed a commission of three assistants, Drs. Emerson, Hitchcock and Miller, to examine Miller.

After a careful examination the physicians came into court and announced that they were agreed that there was no symptom of insanity in the defendant. Miller was then ordered to plead, and the confessed murderer said in a loud voice: "Guilty." Evidence was then introduced to prove the death of Miss Jennett.

In sentencing Miller Judge Murphy called him a demon.

JURY DECLARES JAMES NOT GUILTY; FINDS VERDICT IN TEN MINUTES

No Damages Are Given in the Alleged Kissing Case at Richland Center—Defendant Testifies in His Own Behalf—Decision is Satisfactory.

Richland Center, Wis., April 14.—The jury in the Stanton case late Saturday afternoon returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, David G. James, after being out ten minutes and the character of the best known G. A. R. man of the state stands vindicated. The scene at the outcome of the trial was sensational in the extreme, and Mr. James was the recipient of congratulations from friends in all parts of the country.

The trial only lasted a short time, but it was full of incident and feature, and it was difficult at times for the court, jury and witnesses to keep their faces straight. However, Judge Clementson managed to preserve order in the court, and Attorney Patrick Henry Fay has failed in his case.

Mrs. Sarah Stanton was on the witness stand for fully an hour, but was affected to tears before the close of the case. Her evidence, however, failed to satisfy any one that Mr. James had kissed her and in the presence of hundreds of women living in Richland Center, it was difficult to understand how he ever could have harbored any such design against Mrs. Stanton.

Shortly before 3 o'clock in the afternoon, after Attorney Bancroft, for the defendant, had delivered a scathing argument of Mr. Fay and his client, the case went to the jury. There was but one ballot and that was unanimous. Mr. Stanton, her husband, Robert, and their son Elie, were in court and the latter testified that he had "seen Mr. James kiss ma, but that he had not fought with him because ma wouldn't let him."

Mrs. Stanton's evidence was not convincing as to the alleged kissing, and this is believed to have influenced the jury largely in their finding. The town of Richland Center is satisfied with the evidence, and today there is no happier man in the state than David G. James.

GEN. BROOKES LATED FOR MILES' PLACE

Forced Retirement of the Present Lieutenant General to Come at Early Date.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—It has been finally decided that Lieutenant General Miles is to be retired at an early date. The troubles which began long ago under the Cleveland administration have finally reached a stage that the compulsory retirement of the general at an early date is an open secret, and it is not denied at the White House.

It is understood that upon Miles' forced retirement Major General John B. Brooke, who is Miles' senior both in service and in age, and who did gallant and distinguished work as a volunteer in the civil war, would undoubtedly be put in his place as Lieutenant General, as it is known that the administration has been desirous of recognizing General Brooke's long and faithful service.

General Brooke, during the civil war, rendered equally meritorious service with General Miles. General Brooke was the first to obtain a commission, and throughout the civil war he retained his advantage ending the war as General Miles' senior. After peace came General Miles was promoted over General Brooke's head. As General Brooke will necessarily hold the position but a brief period before his retirement for age, General S. M. B. Young is likely to succeed General Brooke and General Chaffee's promotion to follow two years hence.

OUR TRADE WITH CANADA IS HEAVY

Of Total the Imports of $181,238,000 in 1901, the United States Sent $110,485,000 Worth.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—The United States enjoys more of Canadian custom than the rest of the world put together, according to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce.

In 1877 Great Britain lost to the United States her lead in the matter of goods sent into the Dominion, and from that year forward, with but a slight interval, this country has steadily lengthened the gap.

Consul General Blittinger at Montreal, in a report on the subject, says: "The United States does more business with Canada than with the whole of South America; as much as with Central America, Mexico, and the West Indies together, and nearly as much as with Africa, Asia and Oceania."

"Canada wants to send to the United States her lumber, wool pulp, hay, barley, and minerals. The United States consumes more lumber and paper than any other nation in the world, and she should be glad to admit lumber and wood pulp free. If the United States would take off the duty on Canadian coal our coal would be admitted into Canada free, and our sales of coal in the Dominion would be double what they are at present."

SUBMITS TO AN OPERATION

Amos J. Cummings' Condition Favorable as Can Be Expected.

Baltimore, April 14.—At the church Home and Infirmary, where Congressman Amos J. Cummings is under treatment, his condition today was pronounced to be as favorable as could be expected. All arrangements have been made for the operation which will be performed upon Mr. Cummings this afternoon. He is suffering from an aggravated case of bladder trouble.

Seven Killed, Fifty Injured
Madrid, April 14.—Seven were killed and fifty injured in the collapse of a cathedral tower during the services yesterday.

"Do I look like a sugar beet?" demanded the indignant statesman whom the lobbyist was attempting to bribe.

"I don't know about that, sir," responded the lobbyist, grabbing his hat, "but you are acting like a turnip."—Chicago Tribune.

PLAGUE GAINS IN THE PHILIPPINES

Cholera Deaths 192 in the City, and 318 in the Provinces—Four Americans Are Stricken.

Manila, April 14.—The cholera situation in Manila continues much the same, but the conditions in the provinces are becoming alarming. Four Americans have been attacked and one of them is dead. The total of all the cases in Manila up to date is 215, while there have been 192 deaths from the disease. In the provinces there have been 318 cases and 313 deaths.

The United States army transport Grant, while on its way to Samar Island, put into Legaspi, in Southern Luzon, having on board a teamster who had the cholera. The Grant asked for assistance but was placed in quarantine for four days.

As the supplies of water, food and coal were limited the transport decided to return to Manila. The teamster died of the disease.

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER DR. TALMAGE

Will Take Place from the Church of the Covenant in Washington Tomorrow Afternoon.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—The funeral services over the remains of the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, who died early Sunday morning will take place at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Church of the Covenant. The services will be very simple. There will be no funeral sermon, but short addresses concerning the life and works of Dr. Talmage will be made by men who have been intimately associated with him.

Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage, the pastor of the church, and Dr. Thomas Chalmers, pastor of the Eastern Presbyterian Church of Washington will both assist in the services. Dr. Samuel J. Nichols of St. Louis, a life-long friend, will make an address and Dr. E. P. Torrance of New Jersey, Dr. Howard Gayman of Reinbeck, N. Y., and Dr. James Demarest of Brooklyn, all school friends of the deceased, have been asked to assist. Mrs. Talmage will be furnished by the male quartet of the Church of the Covenant. At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning the interment will take place in the family lot at Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn.

GROW TOBACCO UNDER CLOTH

Sumatra Experiment With Sumatra Leaf in Connecticut.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Professor Milton Whitney, chief of the bureau of soils of the Department of Agriculture, has returned from a trip to Hartford, Conn.; New York and Philadelphia, where he went to learn the feeling in regard to the Sumatra tobacco grown under the cheesecloth covering by direction of the department's tobacco experts. Boxes of cigars wrapped with this tobacco after being packed two months were opened today in Hartford and the gloss and finish of the wrappers were very much finer than when the cigars were packed, showing that the color is permanent.

BURGHERS SUSTAIN SOME HEAVY LOSSES

London, April 14.—Lord Kitchener in his weekly budget reports several engagements in which the Boers lost heavily. On the eighth Colmar's forces attacked the Boers under Meyer in a laager near Kletersburg. Meyer's losses are 106 killed, wounded and missing. Near Roosevelt the Boers attacked Bruce Hamilton's force, but were repulsed, losing 44 killed, 34 wounded and twenty captured and Commandant Pottinger was among the killed. The British losses are six killed and five wounded. Kekewich pursued the Boers, capturing two guns. It is believed that it was Delarey's force which made the attack.

ASK $2,000,000 INHERITANCE TAX; CLAIM AGAINST THE WELLS ESTATE

Fine Points Raised in Dispute Over a Milwaukee Will—Highly Sensational Developments Expected When Matter Comes Up in Courts

Milwaukee, Wis., April 14.—The Federal authorities intend to demand over $2,000,000 inheritance tax on the will of the late Daniel Wells, Jr., and in enforcing it the facts regarding the adoption of Mrs. Fannie Wells, who will be involved. Mrs. Norris will be involved. Mrs. Norris was adopted a great many years ago by Mr. Wells, and Mr. Upham, legal process of adoption is on file in the probate court under a date of many years ago.

Therefore Mrs. Norris, not being a blood relative, may be obliged to pay at the rate of $15 per $100. Assuming the estate to be $15,000,000, the United States government will put in its claim for over $1,400,000 for an inheritance tax on the legacies bequeathed to Mrs. Norris and her son, Daniel Wells Norris, who would receive at twenty-five shares of the estate each, $1,687,500 or together about $3,375,000.

The will of Mr. Wells gives no clue whatever as to the size of the estate and to the amounts that will go to the heirs, excepting the seven provisions for bequests to friends and $5,000 to charitable institutions.

HOW FARMERS MAY SELL TOBACCO

A Leaf Grower Cannot Sell His Tobacco on Commission.

TEXT OF THE LAW

Latest Ruling on the Matter by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

ONLY RAW MATERIAL

Washington, D. C., April 14.—The commissioner of internal revenue has made a comprehensive ruling with regard to the privileges enjoyed by a farmer in the matter of disposing of leaf tobacco of his own growth, or that which he may have received as rental for his lands farmed by tenants. In view of the modern warehousing methods, and the fact that the bureau has been disposed to construe strictly the law imposing special tax on leaf dealers, the Commissioner's ruling is of special interest. It is as follows:

"You present several questions concerning leaf tobacco by and for farmers who raise the tobacco or who receive the same from tenants or who buy the same while it is growing in the fields, and also whether a number of farmers may employ an agent to travel from place to place and sell the tobacco for them.

Farmer May Sell Tobacco
"In reply, you are informed that a farmer or grower of tobacco may sell tobacco of his own growth or raising, or that which he receives from his tenants as rent for land, without restrictions as to the quantity sold or the business of the person to whom the tobacco is sold and delivered. This privilege is one which the farmer or grower cannot delegate to another person.

"The office has decided that where a grower of tobacco may place his tobacco in the hands of a qualified dealer in leaf tobacco to be sold by him on commission, and such dealer must sell the tobacco only to other qualified leaf dealers or to qualified manufacturers of tobacco or cigars, or to persons who buy leaf tobacco in packages for export.

A Violation of Law
"Any arrangement made by a farmer, or a number of farmers, with another person to sell and deliver his or their tobacco for him or them while traveling from place to place would be in violation of the law. An agent who is paid a stipulated salary may travel and solicit orders for the sale of tobacco raised by another person, but he may deliver the tobacco to the purchasers, nor can he sell tobacco on commission or receive as compensation for his services the difference between the price as fixed by the farmer and the selling price.

"All tobacco sold by an agent for the farmer who raised the tobacco must be delivered by the farmer, and not the agent, directly to the person who purchased the tobacco; and a farmer must sell his tobacco in the condition in which it was cured on the farm and cannot stem, twist, plait, roll, sweeten or otherwise manipulate it for sale to consumers."

FLOUR MILLS TO BE IDLE

Fifty Per Cent of Capacity at Minneapolis Cut Off by Freight Rates

Minneapolis, Minn., April 14.—About 50 per cent of the flour mill capacity of this city will be idle next week, and for an indefinite time thereafter until conditions improve. This means a loss of time to about 7,000 mill employees. The shutdown is due partly to the premium millers have to pay on May wheat but principally because of discriminatory rates on wheat and flour in favor of wheat.

A TERRIFIC STORM RAGES IN BERLIN

Berlin, April 14.—A terrific storm burst over Berlin today, causing great damage. Many buildings were struck by lightning. A number of railroad stations are isolated by water and the streets are flooded and traffic is practically suspended. Schools are closed on account of the impassable roads.

Some Farm Notes.

I have heard that seed corn is scarce. I never bought seed corn in my life except to get a new variety; something I did not have myself. The man who does not have to buy seed corn is to be congratulated this year.

I have all kinds of plants set out for spring transplanting. I have a hundred or so small earthen pots and I find they have paid several times over for starting all kinds of plants. Seeds are sown in them and by transplanting after the danger of frost is past there is a gain. I have transplanted lettuce to advantage. Sow early in a box or in pots and transplant them into rows and spray often if the weather is dry. Tomatoes and even watermelons can be propagated in the same manner. It pays to be early. Just now I have a number of pots devoted to canna and calladiums to be put out on the lawn later when the weather gets warm. This is a study that is a pleasure to anyone who likes plants.

When plowing, plow straight and without wobbling. A wobbler seldom does a good job. When one can plow a straight furrow, out an even furrow and do a thorough job, he ought to teach the son to do the same thing. If he cannot, he had better ask the son to teach him. I have boys that can plant a straight corn row much straighter than I can, but they have to take a back seat when it comes to driving straight rows in drilling wheat.

Does the food taste good these days after a hard day's work in the field? Well I should say yes. This is a time when any cooking will beat "mother's cooking." A man does not stop to find fault with cooking when he is hungry. Some men never get hungry in this manner, for they get in the field at eleven o'clock and turn out early. They fall to do enough skilfulishing around, which may be the cause of a poor appetite.

Do not wait to see a neighbor begin a certain kind of work so as to know when the reasonable time is at hand for doing such work. Watch the opportunity and do the work when it seems best, and take notes. Nearly every neighborhood has a man who is criterion for the whole community, and he is watched and patterned after. Sometimes he will make a mistake. Know why any given work is done and then be governed accordingly.

There is an old method of planting potatoes that never appealed to me as being a proper method. It is that of plowing and dropping the tubers in the third furrow. I have given this method a trial and have pronounced it very unsatisfactory. There are

The entries in each event are limited to three, and the contestants in each to two, from any school; except in the relay race, where the entries will be limited to six and the number placed in competition to four, each running one-fourth mile.

Winning first in any event, including relay, counts five points; second place three points; and third place, one point.

The Janesville high school has a number of athletes in training to take part in the contests. A large delegation of students will accompany the team to Madison at the time of the meet.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

Current History and Modern Culture is one of the most unique and valuable monthlies now published. It happily combines articles of interest and value with the full and impartial record of contemporary events for which it has become widely known. The frontpiece of the April number is a full length portrait of the young king of Spain. Some of the more prominent subject headings are: Prince Henry of Prussia; Mr. Chamberlain's South African Policy; China and the Powers; Conditions in the Philippines; The New Era in Mexico; Canals as a means of transportation; Vereschagin and his paintings; Important statistics; A many things against it. One is that the potatoes are hard to drop in a straight row. The furrow being fourteen inches wide gives fourteen inches of latitude and the tubers rest on the hard bottom of the furrows rather than in soft soil. It has the good name of putting the seed down well in the ground. The yield is very often disappointing when this method is pursued.—Wisconsin Farmer.

Most people do not care to engage in producing crops that prove unprofitable. Many are led to abandon the production of wheat because it has been unprofitable for them. This makes a good cash crop and the man who makes money growing wheat gives it his attention, just as he would anything else he should undertake. The man who is expecting profitable crops with little labor and attention had better get off the farm. Wheat comes in all right in a proper rotation.

The fields are ripe for spring work. The man who put spring wheat in the ground as soon as the ground can be worked after the middle of February is doing the right thing. I have known freezes to injure oats in the spring, but have never known a freeze to hurt spring wheat.

No lawn is complete without a bed of tulips and crocuses. They are the first flowers to come and they sometimes peek out of the ground when snow is lingering in place. I have a large bed of them and they are up nicely.

The man who does not know how to use a spade or a hoe ought to go away back and stay down. These tools belong as much to the list of farm tools as any other. They should be kept bright and sharp.

Now is the time to make up the mind to plant some sweet corn to help out when the pastures get dry and short. It is a great help in a time of need. Later it will be too late to give this matter any attention.

Horseshoeing on good smoked side meat is one of the things found on the table early in the spring that tickles all the tender spots in the nostrils of the ordinary individual. Horseshoeing will go up the nose equal to almost anything else.

Better have a garden on the farm than a mortgage. Should there be a mortgage on the farm it should not interfere with the enjoyment of a good garden.

Get ready for Arbor day and plant a few trees. It may be well to do some planting before that day comes. Keep planting trees.

An attractive feature of the April Atlantic is Mr. Paul G. Huston's paper on "The Day's Work of a Forester." Among the newer sciences forestry is conspicuous for its singular union of practical utility and aesthetic charm. Mr. Huston, who is a practical forester, has written with authority on this distinction by virtue of his quick sense of the intimacies of Nature, and its wealth of poetic allusion. Forestry, he says, is really "the science of conservative lumbering," and he details at length, and most interestingly, the needs of our forests, the policy of the Bureau, the methods of survey, and the manner of working and living among the foresters. By the intelligent handling of our forests, the ruthless snatching and rough destructions which now characterize American lumbering will cease, and our forests will be cultivated to produce perpetual woodland.

Scarlet and Hyssop. London society at the opening of the new century is gracefully depicted by E. F. Benson in his new story, "Scarlet and Hyssop." There is nothing ancient or out of date about the story, neither is it overdrawn or unnatural. The author goes behind the scenes and reveals some of the tragedies in real life, that are occurring in the ranks of the 400.

The book deals with facts that have been so cleverly concealed as to deceive the very elect. It is easy to detect the immorality in the ranks of the masses and Mr. Benson has uncovered some of the sins of the day in a field not so easily explored. The book is already popular and is already popular and is bound to have a large sale. D. Appleton and Co. are the publishers.

REGRET HER DEPARTURE

Mrs. Mary C. Henderson Will Give Up Management of the Hospital. Mrs. Mary C. Henderson, who for the past thirteen years has been engaged in hospital management in this city, is about to take her departure for Vancouver, B. C., where she will make her home. Her household goods will be shipped early this week and the lady, accompanied by her sister, hopes to be able to start Wednesday or Thursday. Mrs. Henderson, during her residence in Janesville has made many friends, who will regret her departure and wish her abundant prosperity in her new home.

Were Pleasantly Surprised

Saturday evening members of the K. O. T. M. and L. O. T. M. to the number of about fifty pleasantly surprised Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cannon at their home. The evening was spent in playing various kinds of games and all enjoyed themselves greatly, also a goodly quantity of the edibles that go to cheer the inner man.

During the evening Mr. E. C. Burdick on behalf of those present presented Mr. Cannon with a handsome watch chain and charm and presented Mrs. Cannon with a badge emblematic of her place in the order. The recipients of the presents responded in a few well-chosen words.

REVIVAL AT COURT STREET

Rev. E. J. Baskerville, the Noted Evangelist, in Charge of Meetings. Court Street Church was filled at the morning and evening services yesterday. Evangelistic services were conducted by the Rev. E. J. Baskerville, who for the next two or three weeks will have charge of special meetings, at that place of worship. Mr. Baskerville is an earnest speaker, and unlike the ordinary evangelist, he says something. Back of his earnestness, is a well-equipped mind, and his logic is clear and convincing. He was for five years a pastor at Madison, going from there to one of the largest churches in Detroit. Success came to him as a pastor and it is crowning his efforts as an evangelist.

While it is a little out of the regular order for Methodist churches to conduct revival services at this time of the year, Court Street people decided to do it, and they seem to have been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Baskerville. He was a college classmate of the Rev. Mr. Tippet, and the two men have worked together before. There is nothing sensational about the methods employed, and judgment and common sense are appealed to, rather than emotion.

Mr. Baskerville is a pleasant speaker and holds the close attention of an audience. He will occupy the pulpit every evening this week, except Saturday and the public is cordially invited to attend these services, which commence at 7 o'clock. Afternoon meetings will also be held at the church at 3 o'clock, commencing tomorrow. Janesville is enjoying a revival of business and general prosperity, as the result of well directed energy and enthusiasm. An old fashioned revival of religion will be in keeping with the spirit of the times, and will be a blessing to the city.

BUSY DAYS AT THE NEW SHOE FACTORY

Marzluft & Co's shoe factory is beginning to show signs of activity and to give some promise of the line of industry it soon will be. A low partition has been built across the center of the room, separating the sewing room from the room containing the larger machines. Some idea of the amount of machines already in, can be gained when it is known that a solid row of machines extends along the entire east side of the building, a distance of 250 feet. In addition to those already in place, are many other machines, three of which arrived today.

Several expert machinists are putting the machines in place as rapidly as it is possible to do so. On a table in the south room are about fifty sewing machines of various sizes and for different kinds of work.

Maurice Dalton and others are busy preparing the stock for work next week. Several girls are busy arranging patterns and shaping things for the different departments.

Messrs. Marzluft and Fred Rau, the proprietors, are happy in the thought that they will soon be turning out shoes. "It is a consummation devoutly to be wished by all citizens of the city."

BAND BOYS WANT NEW UNIFORMS

They Are Holding a Series of Dances for This Purpose at Assembly Hall.

Members of the Imperial band hold one of their popular dances on Saturday night at Assembly hall and fully seventy-five couples were in attendance. The crowd was a merry one and from 9 o'clock till the midnight hour two steps and waltzes held full sway. These parties are proving most popular and are given for the purpose of raising $250 to purchase new uniforms. The band boys are most deserving in their cause and are meeting with liberal patronage. A combined band and orchestra of 20 pieces furnishes the inspiration and better music is seldom furnished at a dance. A series of parties are scheduled.

For District Federation

Mrs. V. E. Campbell of Janesville, Mrs. E. F. Hansen of Beloit, Mrs. Redeker of Kenosha, Mrs. Lee Deers of Janesville and Mrs. George Pletsch of Monroe, the committee of five appointed at the meeting of the First District convention of Women's clubs, to decide upon the advisability of organizing a district federation met Saturday afternoon at the Park hotel. The committee decided it was advisable to form a federation, and recommendations to this effect will be prepared and sent to each federated club by the First district to be acted upon by May 20. Whatever the clubs decide upon will be recommended by the committee.

"The Village Postmaster"

All who have seen a part of the life that is reproduced in the famous play "The Village Postmaster," must recognize its accuracy and fall into immediate sympathy with its people. The rest must be satisfied with the assurance that a view of it will faithfully instruct them in the manners, the dress, the customs, the ways of living and something of the habits of the New Englanders at the beginning of the latter half of the nineteenth century.

The Village Postmaster tells a wholesome story, moral without being coarse. It comes to the Myers Grand on Friday, April 18, exactly as done for 227 nights in New York, and during the run of 125 nights just finished in Chicago, including many of the original cast.

Miss Kittle Ryan is entertaining the Misses Ella and Essie Conley.

LAWLESS ELEMENT IS FEARED

Message to General Chaffee Says That Military Protection Is Necessary to Maintain Peace and Order in Luzon, a City in Luzon.

Manila, April 14.—The merchants of Luzon, in South Camarines province, Luzon, have sent a cable message to General Chaffee praying that the American troops be not withdrawn from Luzon. The merchants declare that they are unanimously of the opinion that if they are deprived of the protection of the military they will become victims of the lawless element at the cost of their lives and property. They say that if the American troops leave the town the enemy could reduce the food supply of the inhabitants and retard the advance of the soldiers coming to their rescue, and that such action would lead to irreparable damage. The merchants further declare the local police to be insufficient to guarantee order. This is proved, they say, by the fact that the detachments of American troops have been withdrawn from the neighboring towns of Goa, Tlagon and Sangay, and that the local police have been unable to suppress the assaults, robberies, assassinations and forced contributions by gangs of the recalcitrant element in the neighborhood.

The cholera situation in Manila continues much the same, but the conditions in the provinces are becoming alarming. The total of cholera cases in Manila up to date is 245, where there have been 192 deaths from the disease. In the provinces there have been 418 cases and 313 deaths.

The United States army transport Grant while on her way to Samar Island put into Legaspi, in southern Luzon, having on board a teamster who was afflicted with the cholera. The Grant asked for assistance, but was placed in quarantine. As her supplies of water, food and coal were limited she decided to return to Manila. The teamster died of the disease. Four Americans have been attacked with cholera in Manila and one of them died.

The United States army transport Hancock, which was previously reported aground near Iba, northern Luzon, has arrived here without having sustained damages. She struck on a coal reef and had to be lightened before she could be floated. She was on the reef for sixty hours.

Seventeen Year Locusts.

BAD BABIES

Are often only hungry babies. They cry and fret because they are ill-fed. The healthy mother is sure to have good babies; babies that coo and sleep and grow. Mothers who use Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, are generally healthy and happy, and have healthy, happy children. "Favorite Prescription" prevents nausea, soothes the nerves, promotes the appetite and causes sleep to be sound and refreshing. It gives a great physical vigor and muscular elasticity so that the baby's advent is practically painless. It is the best tonic for nursing mothers, restoring strength and promoting an abundant flow of nutritive secretions.

"I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as one of the best medicines for women," writes Mrs. Mary Munlock, of 105 Woodland Ave., Toledo, Kan. "I suffer it the best medicine made. I know it has no equal. I am the mother of ten children and only one living—the tenth one. She is one year old and is as well and hearty as can be. She is a beauty. Of my other babies, one lived to be one year old, but she was always feeble. I tried different doctors, but none of them could tell me what my trouble was. They said I was well and strong. I was examined by surgeons but they found nothing wrong, and they were puzzled to know what my trouble was. I did not know what to do, so I thought this time I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took it the entire nine months and now have a fine baby girl, and I cannot make your medicine enough for the good it did me."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are easy and pleasant to take. A most effective laxative.

THE SAME OLD ISSUE.
Of course democrats should "get together." There is every reason why they should do so. But it is submitted in all candor that it is much easier for the few thousand to come over than for the six million to go over.—The Commoner.

Democrats who are trying to make themselves believe that free silver is a dead issue, will be interested to know that Mr. Bryan, the man who captured 6,000,000 disciples, does not regard it. The issue is very much alive in the brain of this enthusiastic leader, and while it is safe to assume that it has lost popular prestige it is equally safe to believe, that the element believes it, still controls the democratic party, and that this element will be very much in evidence in the next national campaign. Here is another squib from Mr. Bryan in the last issue of the Commoner:

"The gold bugs say that the increased production of gold has killed the silver question and in saying this they admit that the quantitative theory is correct. They denounced this theory in 1896. Query What would be the condition today but for the unexpected and unpromised increase in the supply of gold?"

Cheap money and plenty of it, is the easiest and most popular question to exploit, that was ever introduced. It is extremely popular with a class of people who have not yet discovered that brain and muscle, are the only honest producers of money. Many of these people honestly believe that the legislature and executive branches of government, possess the power, as well as the divine right to increase the value of metal, by stamping it with a lie and to flood the country with currency by the simple process of printing.

They ignore the fact that the government is simply the people, who for convenience sake have established headquarters at Washington, where representatives are employed to serve them. They also ignore the more important fact that not only the honor but the wealth of the people is back of every note issued or every coin stamped.

Mr. Bryan is a dangerous leader and is so regarded by a majority of the people, and yet he is a welcome guest at almost every college, and university in the land. His theories and fantasies are heralded and the minds of young men are poisoned. While the right of free speech should be safeguarded, there should be some limit. Text books that teach pernicious doctrine, under the high sounding title of political economy, should be abolished and speakers of the Bryan type should have the privilege of confining their efforts to the stump. He is as much of a free silver advocate today as ever, and while the hobby has brought him notoriety and financial success, he is none the less dangerous as a leader. The following is his estimate of Henry Watterson, the conservative leader and possible candidate for 1904:

"Mr. Watterson is becoming terribly worked up about the dangers of a republican administration. It was not always thus. There was a time when he felt that a republican success was necessary to save what the financiers called 'national honor and the public credit.' Now he thinks that the republican administration must be defeated to save the republic and our form of government. Possibly Mr. Watterson thinks that he knows how to take the administration out of the hands of republicans merely because he helped to put it into republican hands, but he will pardon the rank and file if they feel a little skeptical about putting the party under the leadership of those who so recently aided and abetted the enemy. The man on horseback would not be a menace today but for the action of the gold democrats."

The democratic party is still in the woods, and these conservative element of it, will never yield to the dictation or leadership of Mr. Jennings Bryan.

THE LEAGUE PLAYS FAIR.

In default of anything sensational a press that must have something of the pepper and mustard order is now much concerned over the operations of the republican league. According to rumors industriously twisted into semblances of matters of fact, the league is now engaged in the diplomatic task of throwing overboard Senator Whitehead of Janesville. Then another lot of rumors are turned over and over and assembled with a batch of staff mesquerading as facts which have it appear the league is diplomatically at work upon a basis which, while appearing to introduce a number of estimable gentlemen as republican candidates for honors of the convention, yet when the proper time comes will be harmoniously harmonized into the most ardent Whitehead supporters.

It would seem the play designated for the league to perform upon the stage of Wisconsin politics is of the same doubtful, shady character as performed and being performed by those who would socialize and pater-nalize the state. Any scheme of a tortuous character, of a buccaneering character, because played by the opponents of the league, it is supposed when the opportunity offers, the republican league will retaliate in kind. The political stage is set before the people and the players of the great game are presumed by their respective admirers and supporters to be making the correct moves.

Those who have watched the work of the republican league seeking to redeem the state from fanciful Populism, from preserving governors who insist upon having their own way and permitting no others to have a voice anywhere; who have imagined their duty was to coerce entire legislatures and to grossly abuse those who differed with them, have satisfied themselves the managers of the league were honestly at work alone in the behalf of Senator Spooner and of the redemption of a great state. There is no scheme to work. Senator Whitehead by common consent is to be the candidate of the republicans of Wisconsin and in due time is to appear before a state convention. There is to be no foxy, political deals worked in the dark, nothing of the sort. If the Rock county Senator concludes himself to withdraw, that is another matter, but there is no early reason why he should.

The league was credited with the nasty game of intending to throw over Senator Whitehead, and of working one eminent republican name against another. This may be LaFolletteism, but is not straight republicanism. The very folly of such a move would of itself be plain enough to any mind at all looking into the thing. In the first place the throwing over of Senator Whitehead, if it is accomplished as the sensational press say it is to be so, would certainly seriously disaffect many thousands of the warm friends of the candidate so treated. Fair-minded republicans would inevitably mark their profound disapproval of any such performances and any of the present republican leaders who would take part in such a program would certainly meet with their political extinction. It is giving the republican league officials little credit for at least a measure of political sagacity. A game has been put up for them that no other hand looks like a game political freak. Do men like John M. Whitehead, Secretary of State Froelich, Senator Kretzer, Ira M. Bradford, Judge Baensch, Fred M. Demmet, consort with political conspirators—would they consent for a moment to play in any such political game—one against another? Well, hardly.—Racine Journal.

Personal liberty is no more an issue in the state campaign than polygamy, the Milwaukee Journal to the contrary notwithstanding. The city of Milwaukee like every other city regulates its code of morals to suit its constituency, and the state does not attempt to interfere. The same liberty that one man enjoy, when he drinks, the other enjoys when he reads. That principle includes all there is to personal liberty.

In spite of all the rumors that are afloat from Washington, concerning the visit of Pfister, Phillips, and Hagemeister, Mr. Spooner will succeed himself in the United States Senate, and John M. Whitehead will have the support of all conservative republicans until he is nominated by the convention, and the loyal support of all republicans at the polls in November.

The suicide of an individual is always deplorable, but the suicide of a party is damnable. Thinking men throughout the state are not entertaining the idea so far as Senator Whitehead's candidacy is concerned. Democracy and La Folletteism will be obliged to meet the issue fairly. If there is any funeral it will be conducted decently and in order.

Milwaukee democrats are having a lively time over the removal of Gen. J. B. Doe, from the office of assistant attorney to make room for T. H. Door. Doe's friends are wrathful, and threaten all sorts of vengeance. Both men were active in the campaign, but Door appeared to have the pull.

The papers that have been supporting Senator Whitehead, have no apologies to make, neither will they have occasion to switch to another candidate. He is in the race by invitation and will be in at the finish.

A large dish of crow will be enjoyed by the papers which have devoted all of their energies during the past few days, to retelling Senator Whitehead.

Ex-Governor Hogg is on his way home, without waiting for the coronation. He says he would rather be for bullheads in Texas than bow to the crowned heads of Europe.

If reports are true, the South African war is ended. It is to be sincerely hoped that the news is reliable.

PRESS COMMENT.

Re-elect LaFollette and you at once turn loose his machine, directed by an army of office-holders, on the trail of John C. Spooner. It is no more possible to continue the two in public office than it would be to mix oil and sell the compound for champagne.—Oshkosh Observer.

Do not forget in the hurry and worry of spring work that it will be impossible for the people of Wisconsin to retain the services of both John C. Spooner and LaFollette. A choice must be made between the two and it must be made at the next state convention.—Mellen Weekly.

Eau Claire Telegram: The Milwaukee Sentinel says the story that Senator Whitehead "will withdraw as the candidate of the conservative element of the republican party for the gubernatorial nomination" is one of the "hogies conjured up in the interests of the LaFollette faction." The Sentinel's contribution to the discussion is not as weighty as might reasonably be expected from the chief newspaper representative of the Wisconsin republican league; but such as it is, The Sentinel's view seems to close the evidence in the case as to who killed Cock Robin.

Hudson Star and Times: The editor of the Madison Journal bouted the republican candidate for mayor of his city because he thought the democratic candidate a better man for the place. He, however, counts it a crime for those republicans who are turning against Robert M. LaFollette and in favor of John M. Whitehead for governor, because they believe him to be much the better man for the great office. Wilder bouted at the election, while the stalwarts are merely revolting for results at the convention. "Reformers" are strange birds.

Ashland Press: The republicans of northern Wisconsin vote the republican ticket and they will go solid. If Whitehead gets the nomination he will get the republican vote solid and the name is true should LaFollette succeed in securing it he will get the republican vote solid. We northern republicans are not bolters after the ticket is in the field. Gentlemen of the league, you will make a mistake if you attempt to sidetrack the nominee of the north, Mr. Whitehead.

The election in Milwaukee shows that the LaFollette faction of the republican party is a negative one. It is not strong enough to elect delegates or control conventions; but when it comes to uniting with "fair-minded" democrats to defeat republican nominees, it is very much in evidence.—Delavan Republican.

Evening Wisconsin: The verdict "Both Dead," brought in by a coroner's jury at Fulton, Ky., in the case of murdered and retributory lynching, is a laconic finding that is likely to be copied by future juries in the land of fueds and shooting.

Madison Democrat: When butter

The Combination.
If the contest in Milwaukee is to be between the republican party and a combination between the LaFollette men and the democrats, the fact ought to be made known. In Milwaukee, Neillsville and several other cities such a combination was certainly effected during the spring election. The regularly nominated candidates on the republican ticket were defeated by this alliance. If this is a republican treatment of republicans, LaFollette must have established a new political system since he achieved power. The result can easily be apprehended so far as the coming state campaign is concerned. The republicans of Wisconsin will make all the more determined effort to stamp out both LaFolletteism and democracy. In doing this, they will be subserving the best interests of the people and of the party.—Marshfield Times.

Road to Success.

Many small merchants in the cities are apt to think that, while the department stores should advertise, advertising is a profitless expenditure for the small business that finds its custom only in the immediate neighborhood of the store. These men fail to take into consideration the fact that in many instances the department store began life as a neighborhood store and increased its business by judicious advertising. Advertising is just as profitable for the small business as for the large one. Judicious newspaper publicity comes first, of course; but in connection with his newspaper advertising the small merchant may issue from time to time a store paper. Some kind of advertisement should be placed in every bundle of goods sent out of the store, and in every way the merchant should endeavor to keep his establishment before the eyes of the public.—Ad. Writer, St. Louis.

SMILES.

Before His Time.—Casey—How ye noticed Flannery ay late? "Tis too free he is with the drink, O'im thinkin'." Casidy—Ay, an' if he's not careful he'll be fillin' a drunkard's grave before he dies.—Philadelphia Press.

A Phenomenon of Sleep.—He had come on her dozing in a hammock, and when she woke up she accused him of stealing a kiss. "Well," he said, "I will admit that the temptation was too strong to be resisted. I did steal one little kiss." "One," she exclaimed indignantly; "I counted eight before I woke up."—Household Words.

A story is told of a canny Scot who dealt in old horses, alternating his spells of labor with heavy sleeps. During the period of depression which followed each overindulgence John habitually took to bed, and there diligently studied the family bible. During one of these fits of attempted reformation his condition prompted his wife to call in Rev. Mr. Wallace, the parish minister, who at the time happened to be passing.

"Oh, Minister Wallace, come in and see poor John; he's real bad."

"What's wrong wi' him?"

"He's feart to meet his Maker," said Mrs. John.

Quick came the crushing reply:

"Humph; tell'm he needna be feart for that; he'll never see'm."

Mrs. S. T. Learned of Fort Atkinson, who has attained great popularity as a singer, sang at the morning and evening services at the Baptist church yesterday.

DUCKS PLENTY AT LAKE KOSHKONONG

Result of the Law Prohibiting Spring Shooting is Already Clearly Demonstrated.

The good results of the law prohibiting spring shooting is clearly demonstrated this spring by the large number of ducks now at Lake Koshkonong, congregated there on their way to the north. Not only are there great flocks of canvas backs, red heads, and blue bills on the open water of the lake, but there are thousands of mallard, teal, spike tails, widgeons and spoon bills, feeding in the marshes.

There are more native ducks, or ducks that breed in this state, about the lake this spring than have been seen in years. On account of there being very little, if any shooting around the lake, they have become comparatively tame and allow a person to approach within easy gunshot distance before flying. A great many of the teal and mallard have begun to pair off, and the prospects now are that there will be large numbers of young ducks raised around the lake this summer, which will insure good early shooting this fall. As far as mallard and teal are concerned there can be no doubt of the benefit of the law prohibiting spring shooting. The canvasback, red heads and blue bills do not visit the lake on the fall in any such numbers as in former days, but the protection of these birds in the spring certainly gives them a chance to come back in larger numbers in the fall.

The benefits of the law prohibiting the shooting of ducks in the spring will be more and more apparent the longer it is enforced.

MEDIUM TELLS A STRANGE STORY

A Brodhead Man's Remarkable Experience with a Janesville Spirit-ualist—Predictions Came True.

A certain Lorne Campbell, writing in the Chicago American of the power of mediums has the following to say regarding an experience he had in this city:

Going to the medium on another occasion I held in my hand the copy of a lecture returned to me by the Librarian of Congress, where I had sent the manuscript for copying. The manuscript was of an oration, and the same was considered by me to be a work of great value. The reason for returning the manuscript with refusal of copyright was not quite clear to me. I feared that the production might be stolen by some of my acquaintances who had access to it. Addressing the medium, I said: "I hold here in my hand a manuscript of great value. Will I obtain a copyright on the same?"

Entrancing her nature the clairvoyant said: "You go from this place to a large city. You enter an elevator and ascend to the top floor of a high brick building. I see you as you enter an office. You speak to a girl with reddish hair. She copies in long hand what you dictate. She then writes the composition on a typewriting machine. I see you as you put the letter into a mail box. A man with gray hair receives the letter at a great distance. I see him as he writes—yes, you receive your copyright."

I felt confident that the clairvoyant was wrong, at least in detail. The city to which I was to resort after the seance possessed no high buildings to my knowledge and the stenographer who had done much work for me in that particular city officiated on the second floor of a two-story building and I thought of going nowhere else than to the office of this stenographer, at whose hands I had much work done, and in point of fact I knew of no other stenographer in that particular city.

In less than two hours I was packing the streets of the city mentioned. I was residing at that time in the city of Brodhead, Wis., thus stopping off at the city of Janesville. Upon arriving at Janesville I went directly to the office of my stenographer and found the office door locked. The stenographer was out of town. I inquired for other stenographers but found no one who could direct me. It was expedient that I should obtain a typewritten title page of the work to be sent to Washington and I felt that it would be necessary for me to return to Janesville on the following day for that purpose. I was uneasy and could not well afford to waste the time necessary to return and there were no stenographers known to me in the city of Brodhead.

I was in a dilemma and walked down the street in the City of Janesville. I met a Mr. Ulrich, an insurance agent well-known in Racine, Wis. I stated my case to Mr. Ulrich. "Why, go right across the street to our office," said Mr. Ulrich. "Our stenographer is not in the habit of doing outside work, but she will accommodate you by doing this favor for you I feel sure. But," he cautioned me, "do not tell her that I sent you."

"Where is your office?" I asked. "Why, right opposite in the top story of the Hayes Block," he answered.

I was dumfounded. The Hayes Block was the only high brick building in Janesville. I crossed the street, ascended in an elevator as described by the clairvoyant, stepped out at the top floor of this high brick building, entered the insurance office and there, to my astonishment, sat a stenographer in the most unaccustomed manner imaginable wrote my message in long hand, as the clairvoyant had predicted, then copied it upon the typewriter machine, as the clairvoyant had also predicted. I passed the letter through a mail box to Washington and received my copyright.

The above is clearly a prediction and I can prove every word of the foregoing before any judge or jury of twelve men now living.

SMALL POX PATIENT ROAMS THE STREETS

Dr. Woods Finds a Full Fledged Case. Ripe for Inspection—Widespread Scattering of the Germs

The danger of allowing small-pox patients to remain in their homes under quarantine, and how much regard they have for the quarantine, was brought to public notice this morning in a forcible manner.

Dr. E. F. Woods was coming up Main street and when near the Bower City Bank Corner was accosted by a woman leading a small boy, who asked him, "Doctor do you think the authorities would allow my boy to go to school if I got a permit from the health officer. He has had the small pox."

Dr. Woods looked at the boy and was surprised that anyone should bring a boy in his condition out on the street. He was just at the very worst stage of the disease to cause it to spread. His face was covered with scabs and a number of the pustules had not yet dried up.

Dr. Woods told the woman that the authorities would not allow the boy to go to school in his condition and that she had better get him back home as soon as possible, before he exposed any more people to the disease. He stepped into the bank and notified the health officer by telephone of what had occurred and what he had told the woman to do.

This only goes to show how some people regard a quarantine. They do not pay any attention to it and take all sorts of chances of spreading the disease. A case is known of where a man in the second ward was under quarantine and when a neighbor went to his house to split a little wood for him, the sick man's wife said her husband was getting along nicely and wanted the man to come into the house and see him.

The warm weather will soon kill out the disease in this section but there will be germs enough left that will come to life next winter that will give the city a first class epidemic. Every precaution should be taken by the authorities to see that the quarantines are strictly enforced and that all property that might contain germs be thoroughly fumigated or destroyed.

LIVELY RUNAWAY ON MAIN STREET

Farm Team of Hugh Miller Becomes Frightened and Makes a Mad Dash Through Street.

A pair of horses belonging to James Little, who resides in the town of Janesville, made a lively run down Main street about one o'clock. They were hitched to a lumber wagon and were in charge of Hugh Little, who was unloading some oats, at Thor-oughwood's factory.

Little was standing in the back end of the wagon when the horses became frightened and started to run. He was thrown out onto the ground but was not hurt. The team ran down Main street to the corner of Clark street where they collided with a telephone pole and were stopped. About the only damage was a broken neck yoke and a few straps of the harness.

Distressing Accident to Guy Wheeler, While Cutting Fire Wood at His Home Saturday.

On Saturday morning last Guy Wheeler met with a distressing accident which will undoubtedly result in his losing the sight of his left eye. While cutting firewood at his home, a stick flew up, striking him in the eye, and broke the outer covering of the eyeball and also ruptured the membrane between the anterior and posterior chambers. He suffered great pain but was brought to the city and placed in the Palmer Memorial Hospital under the care of Dr. J. P. Thorne, who treated the eye and soon succeeded in relieving the pain.

That evening Dr. William A. Fisher of Chicago, an eminent oculist and an extremely able and successful practitioner was called in consultation upon the case. It was decided at this time that an operation was unnecessary but the eye was dressed and the patient made as comfortable as possible.

Whether the accident will be attended with more serious consequences cannot be determined for several days but Mr. Wheeler is getting along nicely up to the present time.

Dr. Ralph Wheeler of Chicago, who came up with Dr. Fisher, returned home last evening but will return this evening and will make a further examination of the injured eye with Dr. Thorne.

ADVERTISING CAN'T DO IT ALL.

Sharp Contrasts Shown in Taking Care of Trade.

Advertising in itself is an essential to any successful business. I am a firm believer in advertising, but experience has taught me that advertising is not all; it merely opens the door and shows you to a seat—in fact, the much appreciated usher.

A merchant may advertise judiciously; he may spend thousands of dollars a year on newspaper space; he may have superior goods; and he may bargain and discounts may be all that his advertising man claims for them; and he may fail. Why?

There is a big department store in Detroit. It is a landmark for many who are not well acquainted with the city, and it has splendid goods and many bargains. Yet it is "hoodooed" by a great mass of people, the writer among them.

Shortly after my arrival in Detroit, I, accompanied by a gentleman, went into this store to look at some four-in-hand ties for my brothers. We were not acquainted with the building, and looked inquiringly around.

Numberless clerks were there, but those who were not busy with customers were talking to each other. Finally we inquired the way to the neck-tie counter, and the cold stare we received from the clerk as she gave us curtained directions made the marrow creep in my backbone.

At last, however, we arrived at the counter. Neckties in plenty were there, in all shades of the rainbow, and in all styles of the world, but that was all. We were in a hurry to catch a car, but there we waited.

At last the gentleman, worn out with the neglect, called out sharply: "Will some one please come and wait on this counter?" And then a well looking gentleman from behind the ribbon counter, where there were some five or six clerks hunched together, came over with an injured, surly look on his well combed face, installed himself behind the counter and asked condescendingly: "What did you want?" I told him and got it. I went out and never have I been back to that store. And what is more, I never intend to go.

The gentleman with me will never enter the building again, and numberless others say they will never go to that place—they feel to cheap.

I entered another department store, alone. It had not the money behind it that the first had, but as I looked inquiringly around the manager (evidently) stepped up politely and asked if there was anything he could do. I asked for the directions to the skirt department, and he told me it was on the second floor. Moreover he escorted me to the elevator, and told me which direction to take when I stepped out. The elevator boy was polite; and therefore I was polite. I and my friends deal there.

Now do you know the secret of successful advertising? If not read this over again. It will pay you.—B. F. Thompson in Advertising World.

NO SWAPPING HORSES.

There has been much talk about Senator Whitehead's withdrawal from the gubernatorial contest. He must not be allowed to do so. He has been chosen by the conservative party as their standard bearer, and he must stick to his colors. It would be a great injury to that party were he permitted to withdraw. The contest will be between Whitehead and LaFollette. It is too late to swap horses.—Eau Claire Leader.

No Early Convention

Rachne Journal: More congressmen are calling for an early convention. Why should the people be called upon to go through a congressional campaign of several months just because these congressmen may have things fixed for their own pleasure. They should take their chances in the height of a state campaign, for this idea of congressmen having patent rights of their seats is all wrong. If the people will just take this matter in hand they will effectually cure all future members from rushing the early congressional growler.

Heart Beats

that are too fast or too slow, too strong or too weak, are not the kind that come from a healthy heart. Remember, every heart that pains, flutters, palpitates, skips beats, and every heart that causes fainting spells, shortness of breath or smothering, is weak or diseased, and cannot keep the blood circulating at its normal rate.

"My heart was very weak and kept skipping beats until it missed from one to three beats a minute. Well knowing what the result would be if this trouble was not stopped, I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and two bottles brought the heart action to its normal condition."
